

Mickey Mouse and his pals love special Clubhouse celebrations, especially when your preschooler and his or her friends are in on the fun. What better occasion than Independence Day to sing, dance, and get goofy with close friends! So shout “Meeska, Mooska, Mickey Mouse” and let the fun begin!

What you'll need:

- Empty containers with lids
(such as plastic bottles, yogurt containers, juice cans, and coffee cans)
- Sturdy paper plates
- Dried beans or uncooked rice
(such as kidney, lima, lentils, or garbanzo beans)
- Red, white, and blue construction paper
- Streamers
- Glue
- 4th of July-themed stickers
- Crayons and markers
- Masking tape
- White or brown craft paper
- Paint and paintbrushes
- Glitter in a variety of colors
- Relay baton and drum major baton
- Tool box or bag
- Mouseketools
(such as a magnifying glass, glove, key on a keychain, a small comb, a bouncy ball, a toy screwdriver or toy wrench, a crayon, a paintbrush, etc.)
- Blindfold
- Miniature United States flags
- Mickey Mouse ears
- CD player and marching band music
- Various instruments
(triangles, maracas, kazoos, tambourines)
- Noisemakers
- Wind toys

What's inside:

- Pinwheel party decorations
- Kites
- Placemats
- Party favor ideas
- Invitations
- Noisemakers
- Decorations and printables
- Games and activities

